

ADAPTABLE

Verse One

When I wake up in the morning, I'm lying in my bed
I think about a brand new day and all that lies ahead
Sometimes it's so surprising, because you just never know
What life's got in store for you, or how it's gonna go . . .

Bridge

But I can be adaptable
And shape the way I see
I can find a way to match
All this world throws at me

Chorus

Looking for a change
I can rearrange
Anything I gotta do
Getting off my seat
Thinking on my feet
Gonna find the best way through

Verse Two

When everything is changing and it's not clear what to do
When the problem seems so big and tough, and it's really boring too
If I treat it like a challenge, a job that must get done
There could be a new way in, and a chance to have some fun . . .

Bridge and chorus

Verse Three

When I think about the future and the way to play this game
The only thing that's certain is that nothing stays the same
So I need to take my learning and apply it as I go
Work my skills in brave new ways, and using all I know . . .
